

Opening 6-8pm, December 7, 2017-January 5, 2018
When Papparazzi was not a dirty word : Celebrities in the 1970's
Photo Exhibition @
MIDOMA
545 8th Ave, Suite 750
New York NY 10018
917-432-2667

media release

Judi Jupiter's
When "Papparazzi " was not a dirty word:
Celebrities In The '70s

Caligula in the late 70's is what New York City was.

Famous Movie Stars, Musicians, Models, Politicians...all the Beautiful People, snorting drugs that were spread across tables near the dance floor, in plain view of any passerby.

Sex was everywhere...from the balcony to the famous Private Room in the basement.

Everyone was desperate to get past the exclusive velvet ropes at Studio 54.

"Papparazzi" was not a dirty word in those days. It was hot.
Celebrities were more than thrilled to pose for Judi Jupiter's camera.

Judi was the first House Photographer at Studio 54, hired by their PR firm, giving her free reign to admit anyone she wanted.

The photos in Celebrities in the 70's have never been shown before. Judi Jupiter decided to share her private collection, after 40 years of storage in plastic buckets.

The photos include Debbie Harry, Keith Richards, Patti Hansen, James Brown, Tommy Tune, Andy Warhol, Paul Shaffer, Billy Idol, Cher, Sylvester Stallone, Janice Dickinson, Steve Rubell, Fran Lebowitz, Madonna, Grace Jones, Tina Turner and Kiss. Shot in the hottest clubs in the world: Studio 54 in Milan, les Bains in Paris, Mudd Club, Infinity, Limelight, Area, Xenon, Danceteria, Heartbreak, Underground, Roseland, Salvation, Monster and The Ice Palace.

Come take a peek into the party life of Celebrities in the 70's.

